

UNIQUE VENUES

OSAKA GUIDE

What are Unique Venues?

Unique Venues provide a special place for exceptional experiences.

From museums and art galleries to shrines and temples, and from historical buildings to gardens and public spaces, throughout Japan there are locations rooted in the nature, history, arts, customs, or industry of the local region. These places are an important aspect in attracting meetings and events, as utilizing these facilities and spaces as event venues allows visitors to experience first-hand the local customs and culture. Such locations that are specifically rented to meet needs different from their original purposes are called unique venues. Meeting and event planners are always seeking exceptional experiences to ensure the highest satisfaction for their attendees. Utilizing unique venues is an extremely effective way to create unique experiences and environments that can only be found in that specific region, and the existence of such venues is a key factor in deciding an event's host destination.

In order to attract events, a destination must promote the overall advantages of holding events in their specific region, such as the region's conference facilities, accommodations, accessibility, party venues, history and culture, and surrounding tourist attractions. However, it is also important to bring attention to the distinct culture and atmosphere that only that specific area can provide, and unique venues are essential in creating such exceptional experiences.

Osaka unique venues offer experiences unlike anywhere else.

Unique venues can be used for a wide range of events. Entertain a private party in a historical building, host a large event with many guests in a venue with stunning view, organize a meeting or an exhibition in a memorable location, and more.

1 One of the world's most prominent champagne producers hosted a private party in the Yamamoto Noh Theater where they received exclusive noh experiences, set up a champagne tasting, and dined on some of the finest cuisine from the Kansai region.

2 The IGLTA (International LGBTQ+ Travel Association) 2024 Global Convention in Osaka featured exciting parties at the Landmark Square Osaka and Sumiyoshi Taisha Kisshoden that delighted attendees.

Osaka City Central Public Hall

Historical Architecture

Osaka City Central Public Hall was completed in 1918 after a donation was made by Einosuke Iwamoto, a prominent stockbroker of the time. In the century since its completion, the building has become a cultural and artistic hub cherished by the citizens of Osaka.

In 2002, after additional preservation and restoration work, the building was designated an Important Cultural Property by the national government for its extreme value as a piece of historical architecture. Noted for its interior design as well as beautiful exterior, the Central Public Hall is a defining landmark of Nakanoshima's townscape.
